

HOUSTON LIVESTOCK SHOW AND RODEO™

JUNIOR MARKET AUCTIONS IMPORTANT DONOR DISCLOSURES

DONOR NOTIFICATIONS:

- Your contribution is a non-refundable donation to the Show. If you spend less at auction than your auction commitment amount, the difference becomes a donation to the Show. If you do not participate at auction, your full commitment becomes a donation to the Show. Resell credits for declined meat packages cannot be selected for Junior Market Auctions.
- Meat Packages are only high quality, commercially sourced meat.
- Meat package contents will be published before auction. Meat package and gift card selections will be confirmed via email post Show.
- Please review the Auction Benefit Guide in the Auction Catalog for clarification on allotted auction day packages.
- Meat packages not picked up during the allotted time period will be considered a donation to the Show and auction commitments will not be refunded. The Show will notify donors of pick-up dates.
- Meat package and gift card benefits will not be released if you have not paid for your auction donations in full. Payment will not be accepted at the meat pick up location.
- On auction day, donors will be offered additional benefits. The fair market value of any additional benefits received at auction will be split among all donors on the lot.
- The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is 501(c)(3) charitable organization. Goods or services that may be available in return for your donation to this auction are listed on the front of this form. Additional benefits may also be available based on cumulative giving across all eligible auctions. The extent to which your donation may be deductible for tax purposes is limited to the excess of your donation over the value of any and all goods or services accepted in return. It is your responsibility to understand the implications of accepting additional benefits when determining the tax-deductible portion of their annual donations. Consult your tax professional for more information.
- Payments for donations and auction commitments from foundations or charities will be reviewed individually and all benefit acceptances will be determined by individual foundation policies. Please review your foundation policy before accepting any donor benefits.
